“A COUNTLESS MULTITUDE”

On this feast of All Saints we remember the countless multitude of men, women and children, including many we have known, who are now in heaven. We continue to be inspired by the qualities they revealed in their lives: humility, a concern for justice, gentleness, purity of heart, mercy, and courage. We take comfort in knowing that from their home in heaven they intercede for us still.

Entrance Antiphon

Let us all rejoice in the Lord,
as we celebrate the feast day in honour of all the Saints, at whose festival the Angels rejoice and praise the Son of God.

First Reading

Apocalypse 7:2-4,9-14

A reading from the book of the Apocalypse

I, John, saw another angel rising where the sun rises, carrying the seal of the living God; he called in a powerful voice to the four angels whose duty was to devastate land and sea, ‘Wait before you do any damage on land or at sea or to the trees, until we have put the seal on the foreheads of the servants of our God.’ Then I heard how many were sealed: a hundred and forty-four thousand, out of all the tribes of Israel.

After that I saw a huge number, impossible to count, of people from every nation, race, tribe and language; they were standing in front of the throne and in front of the Lamb, dressed in white robes and holding palms in their hands. They shouted aloud, ‘Victory to our God, who sits on the throne, and to the Lamb!’ And all the angels who were standing in a circle round the throne, surrounding the elders and the four animals, prostrated themselves before the throne, and touched the ground with their foreheads, worshipping God with these words, ‘Amen. Praise and glory and wisdom and thanksgiving and honour and power and strength to our God for ever and ever. Amen.’

One of the elders then spoke, and asked me, 'Do you know who these people are, dressed in white robes, and where they have come from?' I answered him, 'You can tell me, my lord.' Then he said, 'These are the people who have been through the great persecution, and they have washed their robes white again in the blood of the Lamb.'

The word of the Lord.

People: Thanks be to God.

Responsorial Psalm

Psalm 23(24):1-6

R. Lord, this is the people that longs to see your face.

- | | |
|---|---|
| 1. The Lord's is the earth and its fullness,
the world and all its peoples.
It is he who set it on the seas; on the waters he made it firm. R. | 3. He shall receive blessings from the Lord and reward from the God who saves him.
Such are the men who seek him,
seek the face of the God of Jacob. R. |
| 2. Who shall climb the mountain of the Lord?
Who shall stand in his holy place?
The man with clean hands and pure heart,
who desires not worthless things. R. | |

Second Reading

1 John 3:1-3

A reading from the first letter of John

Think of the love that the Father has lavished on us,
by letting us be called God's children;
and that is what we are.
Because the world refused to acknowledge him,
therefore it does not acknowledge us.
My dear people, we are already the children of God
but what we are to be in the future has not yet been revealed;
all we know is, that when it is revealed
we shall be like him because we shall see him as he really is.
Surely everyone who entertains this hope must purify himself, must try to be as pure as Christ.

The word of the Lord.

People: Thanks be to God.

Alleluia, alleluia!

Come to me, all you that labour and are burdened,
and I will give you rest, says the Lord.

Alleluia!

Holy Gospel

Mt 5:1-12a

Priest: The Lord be with you.

People: And with your Spirit.

Priest: A reading from the holy Gospel according to St. Matthew.

People: Glory to you, Lord.

Seeing the crowds, Jesus went up the hill. There he sat down and was joined by his disciples. Then he began to speak. This is what he taught them:

‘How happy are the poor in spirit;
theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
Happy the gentle:
they shall have the earth for their heritage.
Happy those who mourn:
they shall be comforted.
Happy those who hunger and thirst for what is right:
they shall be satisfied.
Happy the merciful:
they shall have mercy shown them.
Happy the pure in heart:
they shall see God.
Happy the peacemakers:
they shall be called sons of God.
Happy those who are persecuted in the cause of right:
theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

‘Happy are you when people abuse you and persecute you and speak all kinds of calumny against you on my account. Rejoice and be glad, for your reward will be great in heaven.’

The Gospel of the Lord.

People: Praise to you, Lord Jesus Christ

Communion Antiphon

Mt 5:8-10

Blessed are the clean of heart, for they shall see God.
Blessed are the peacemakers,
for they shall be called children of God.
Blessed are they who are persecuted for the sake of righteousness, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

Few Walk It—Will You?

Solemnity of All Saints, November 1

The Sermon of the Beatitudes by James Tissot, 1886-1894

When Jesus saw the crowds, he went up the mountain, and after he had sat down, his disciples came to him. He began to teach them, saying: “Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the Kingdom of heaven...” Matthew 5: 1–3

Do you want to get to Heaven? Most would instinctively respond, “Yes.” But imagine an angel appearing to you today and saying, “The Most High God will be taking you to Heaven this very day.” How would you react? Would your heart leap with joy? Or would a wave of fear wash over you as you realized everything in this world would be left behind?

In truth, many struggle to look forward to Heaven with genuine longing. We may think of it from time to time, perhaps smile when recalling loved ones who have gone before us, presuming they are “in a better place.” Yet few of us live with a desire that eagerly awaits Heaven as our true home.

Today, on the Solemnity of All Saints, the Church invites us to lift our eyes to the glorious communion of saints and angels. In Heaven, they behold the Beatific Vision, gazing with awe and love upon the Most Holy Trinity. They are fulfilled. Their hearts are open, receiving God’s love in its fullness and returning it with perfect charity. This eternal exchange of love deepens their union with God in an everlasting ascent of glory.

By God's mercy, if we are counted among the "few" who enter through the narrow gate (cf. Matthew 7:14), by walking the constricted road that leads to life, then, when this life is ended we will immediately know that every act of prayer, sacrifice, and surrender was worth it. The beatific gaze upon God will fill us with such radiant joy that all earthly attachments will dissolve. We will see clearly how foolish it was to cling to the vanities of this world and will be eternally grateful that we strived to overcome them with diligence.

Riches, possessions, honors, and status will be gone. None of it will matter. All we will carry into eternity is the love we lived—our love that was purified through suffering, tested by obedience, and offered as a sacrifice. This is divine charity, and its fruit will forever remain with us. All selfish love will be stripped away. Only what is of God will remain.

Talk of Heaven can be jarring to some. We often become so consumed with the present moment that we see only this present moment, seeking immediate satisfaction or resenting current struggles. Living as if this life were all we have is self-deception. It blinds us to eternity, which will be spent either in Heaven or in hell.

The path to Heaven challenges our natural instincts. Grace must elevate them, guiding us by divine wisdom rather than human reasoning. Today's Gospel reveals that wisdom: The truly blessed are the poor in spirit, those who mourn, the meek, those who hunger for righteousness, the merciful, the pure of heart, the peacemakers, and those persecuted for Christ.

Do you desire this life of beatitude? Or do you desire a life of riches, fun, pride, judgment, condemnation, an indulgent heart, self-righteousness, and freedom from all suffering and persecution? If you struggle with desiring a life of true beatitude, then fall to your knees in prayer today. Beg God to open your heart to the truth of the Beatitudes that leads to heavenly glory. The path is narrow and few walk it. Resolve to be among those few.

Reflect today on the saints in Heaven. They were not perfect on earth, but they were faithful. They allowed divine charity to take root in their hearts and persevered through trial. Read the Beatitudes slowly and ask, "Do I truly want to be counted among them?" If the answer is "Yes," then live today—and every day—with Heaven as your only goal.

Most glorious and Triune God, I long to gaze upon You, to bask in Your radiance, and to dwell in Your divine presence forever. Open my mind to understand the road I must walk, and my eyes to see the path before me, so that I may follow the example of the saints who have gone before me—embracing the life of the Beatitudes, that I may one day share in Your eternal life. Jesus, I trust in You.

THE APOSTLES' CREED

I believe in God,
the Father almighty, Creator of heaven and earth,
and in Jesus Christ,
his only Son, our Lord,

*At the words that follow, up to and including
'the Virgin Mary', all bow.*

who was conceived by the Holy Spirit,
born of the Virgin Mary,
suffered under Pontius Pilate,
was crucified, died and was buried;
he descended into hell;
on the third day he rose again
from the dead;
he ascended into heaven,
and is seated at the right hand of God the Father almighty;
from there he will come to judge
the living and the dead.
I believe in the Holy Spirit,
the holy catholic Church,
the communion of saints,
the forgiveness of sins,
the resurrection of the body,
and life everlasting.
Amen.

ST. FRANCIS, PRAY FOR US.

PRAYER OF THE FAITHFUL

Celebrant: We celebrate the communion of all the saints now in the presence of God, and we join them in prayer:

1. We pray for Pope Leo, Bishop George and all the leaders of our Church: may they continue to bring renewal to the Church and lead the faithful into the ways of the Beatitudes. We pray to the Lord.
2. We pray for peace among nations and in our communities: may leaders in our world work for peace, especially in places where hatred and conflict are deep-seated. We pray to the Lord.
3. We pray for the Church throughout the world, especially in places of persecution: may all Christians be inspired to live the Beatitudes with courage and joy. We pray to the Lord.
4. We pray for our community gathered here today: inspired by the lives of the Saints, may we seek the eternal joy of God's ways. We pray to the Lord.
5. We pray for those who mourn: may they experience God's consolation. We pray to the Lord.

Celebrant: God of holiness and love, hear the prayers we offer today and help us to follow faithfully in the footsteps of the saints. We ask this in the name of Jesus Christ our Lord.

People: Amen.

*Note: Please find someone else to replace you if you are unable to do your roster.
Please notify the Parish Office of the change. Thank you.*

FR. NATHAN BARRIE

I have had the opportunity to celebrate additional Masses for the Sisters of Carmel at their monastery in Gelorup. Their hidden life of prayer is a great gift to our Diocese, particularly through their constant prayer for our priests and the people entrusted to our care. We can scarcely comprehend how much we depend upon their prayers. Please keep the Sisters in your prayers, giving thanks for their vocation and asking the Lord to sustain their community and provide for its continued future.

Recently, Bishops who lead their respective national Bishops' Conferences gathered in Rome to reflect on marriage, the family, and love. Both the late Pope Francis and Pope Leo have emphasised the importance of preparing couples well for the vocation of marriage, with even the possibility of a marriage catechumenate being explored. Just as those preparing for Baptism are accompanied in their journey of faith, couples preparing for marriage need time and support to understand the beauty, responsibilities, and lifelong commitment of their vocation.

Let us pray for all engaged couples and those who accompany them, that good marriage preparation may help build happy, healthy, and holy marriages, strengthening families and the life of the Church.

I love you all. God bless us.

All Saints Day: Celebrating the Communion of Saints

Every November 1, the Catholic Church celebrates the Solemnity of All Saints, honouring all the saints in heaven, those officially canonised by the Church and the countless others whose holiness is known only to God. This feast reminds us that holiness is not reserved for a select few but is a calling for all of us.

At the heart of this celebration is the Communion of Saints, a fundamental Catholic belief that all members of the Church are united in Christ. This communion embraces the Church on earth, the souls undergoing purification in purgatory, and the saints who already share in the glory of heaven. Though separated by death, they remain united through the love of God. Communion of Saint also reminds us that the journey towards holiness is a shared pilgrimage. The saints in heaven intercede for us, while we, as members of the Church on earth, continue to pray for one another and for the faithful departed.

Let us pray that we who are all called to share in the eternal joy of God's kingdom shall one day share the beatific vision with the angels and saints in heaven.

LECTIO DIVINA

STEPS OF LECTIO DIVINA

1. Prepare (Silencio): Take a few moments to quiet yourself, get in a comfortable position, and become aware of God's presence.
2. Read (Lectio): Read the Scripture passage slowly, out loud if possible. Listen for a nudge: What words or images is the Spirit drawing you toward today?
3. Meditate (Meditatio): Re-read the Scripture passage, lingering over the person/word/phrase that captured your attention. Let your imagination engage the story/text. Reflect on how it might intersect with your life today.
4. Pray (Oratio): Read through the Scripture passage another time, allowing the Scripture to lead you into a prayer/response to God. Talk to God about what has come to mind, and how He might be inviting you to respond.
5. Contemplate (Contemplatio): Rest in the awareness of God's presence, remaining open to anything else the Holy Spirit might stir in your heart. If your mind wanders, gently redirect your thoughts toward God. Simply be still. Expect nothing. Enjoy a moment of fellowship with God that goes deeper than words. God loves you.

The Feast of All the Saints

by Sr. Christine Clarke, PBVM

On the feast of All Saints last year, Pope Leo noted how the lives of the saints teach us that it is possible to live passionately amidst the complexity of the present, without neglecting the apostolic mandate of the Beatitudes (today's gospel). These Beatitudes are both the path and the message of Jesus.

In the saints, we see the kingdom approaching and becoming present among us. The gospel of Matthew depicts Jesus as the one who transmits a new perspective on things, reflected in the beatitudes, and in his own journey.

In the first reading (from the Book of Revelation), one of the elders observing the multitude asks: "Who are these... and from where have they come" (Rev 7:13) - they have come "out of the great tribulation" (v. 14). These are the faces of many brothers and sisters of every language and culture. They have gone through the narrow gate of Jesus, and have entered into the fullness of life.

Life shines brightly not because we are rich, beautiful or powerful. It shines when we discover within ourselves the truth that we are called by God, have a vocation, have a mission, that our lives serve something greater than ourselves.

This is the universal call to holiness that the Second Vatican Council made an essential part of its message (see Ch 5 of Lumen Gentium). And this holiness is intended for everyone, without exception, as a personal and communal journey marked out by the Beatitudes.
